

A broadcast censorship policy makes no sense in the absence of a similar policy censoring all public communication. It is not the job of government to ensure that I don't hear anything that I might find offensive. Nor is it the job of government to fine someone for airing speech that occurs daily on our public streets, parks and playgrounds. This censorship insanity must stop. That's why god puts control switches on our TVs and radios.